

D.H. DOUGHERTY & CO.

Spot Cash.

Yesterday, 13th instant, we opened three cases of beautiful Dress Plaid

GINGHAMS.

Our former price for same quality of Gingham has been 8c per yard. We are going to slaughter these goods at 5c per yard. This is a bargain for which you will never cease to praise us. We also opened at the same time one case of beautiful figured Satteens which has never been sold by any other house in Atlanta for less than 35c per yard, and our former price for same quality of goods has been 25c. This case of Satteens will be sold by us at 15c per yard. Your money is your friend, and the house which places these kind of bargains constantly before you serves your interest best

ARE STILL TRIUMPHANT!

For fifteen years they have steadily gained in favor, and with sales constantly increasing have become the most popular Corsets throughout the United States. The "G" quality is warranted to wear twice as long as ordinary Corsets, and testimonials without number could be given of the permanent satisfaction they have afforded for a long series of years. While scores of patents have been found worthless, the principles of the Glove-Fitting have proved invaluable. Retailers are authorized to refund money, if on examination these Corsets do not prove as represented. A full line of these Glove-Fitting Corsets are for sale by JOHN RYAN, Atlanta, Ga.

THOMPSON, LANGDON & CO., Mfrs., 70 and 72 Worth Street, New York, Catalogue free on application. May 7-13m this ad can be

SOLAR IP SHOES

Are the CHEAPEST and BEST for CHILDREN. None genuine without the "SOLAR IP" label. Each pair of shoes is stamped with the "SOLAR IP" label. Look for it. It is the mark of the genuine. It is the mark of the quality. It is the mark of the durability. It is the mark of the comfort. It is the mark of the style. It is the mark of the price. It is the mark of the value. It is the mark of the quality. It is the mark of the durability. It is the mark of the comfort. It is the mark of the style. It is the mark of the price. It is the mark of the value.

PETER LYNCH

DEALER IN

GROCERIES, WINES, LIQUORS,

Ale, Porter, Cider, Claret, Tobacco and Snuff

HARDWARE, GLASS & CROCKERY-WARE,

BOOTS, SHOES,

Harness, Upper, Sole and Lace Leather,

All kinds of

FIELD & GARDEN SEEDS.

In their proper seasons. Also, Licensed Dealer in

PISTOLS, CARTRIDGES, GUNS

And Ammunition.

A Perfect Variety Store.

Terms Cash. 25 Whitehall and 7 Mitchell streets, Atlanta, Ga.

LEO W. MITCHELL ATLANTA, GA.

WOODCUTS FOR BOOKS, BUCK CATALOGUES, ADVERTISEMENTS

CENTRAL CITY LOTS

For Sale,

ON REASONABLE TERMS. FIVE CITY LOTS

on Forsyth street, near First Baptist Church.

Some lots improved and some vacant, known as the Simms place. Apply to

E. N. BROYLES, No. 8 South Broad St.

apr24-dim

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS!

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED UP

to 10 o'clock a.m., on the 25th inst., at the office of W. F. Station, superintendent for the erection

and completion of the first street school building.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of

Kimball, Wheeler & Perkins, architects, Constitution

building. Also at the same time and place bids will be received for the completion of the Calhoun street

school building. For particulars, apply to Dr.

Thomas S. Powell, chairman building committee.

The board reserves the right to reject any or all proposals for either of the above works.

W. F. STATION, Sec. Board of Education.

apr24-dim

CENTRAL CITY LOTS

For Sale,

ON REASONABLE TERMS. FIVE CITY LOTS

on Forsyth street, near First Baptist Church.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XVII.

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 17 1885. TWELVE PAGES.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

'WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND'

Has been tested and recommended by the best physicians in this country

FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS and is pronounced an absolute specific for every form and condition of WOMEN'S DISEASE. A trial means a cure.

BRADFIELD'S

Don't suffer, MOTHERS, SISTERS, WIVES and DAUGHTERS any longer when this great remedy is in your reach, and you can be your own doctor. Don't peril your lives or ruin your health by longer waiting, but if troubled with any disease peculiar to your sex, try a bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator.

FEMALE REGULATOR

Our "Treatise on Woman and Her Diseases," should be in every family, and is mailed FREE to any address.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

O. A. SMITH

MANUFACTURER OF

Sulphuric Acid

66 Deg. Oil Vitriol, AND OTHER CHEMICALS.

Office, 15 N. Forsyth, corner Walton, Atlanta, Ga.

—ALSO—

DISTILLER OF COAL TAR.

Manufacturer of

Roofing and Paving Materials,

Tarred Roofing and Sheathing Felts.

PERFECTION BRAND OF

READY ROOFING.

Ordinary 2 and 3-Plv Roofing,

ROOF COATINGS, VARNISH, Etc.

No. 15 Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga.

RELIABLE AGENTS WANTED.

GARDEN HOSE.

FOUR QUALITIES OF GARDEN HOSE AND

at prices lower than ever sold before. Also

Hose Reels, Hose Pipes, Sprinklers, etc. Conducting Hydrant, Engine, Fire, Steam Suction,

Air Hose and every kind of Hose.

Rubber Belting,

Leather Belting,

ATLANTA RUBBER CO.

26 MARIETTA STREET. su mo

ATLANTA BRIDGE WORKS

GRANT WILKINS,

Civil Engineer and Contracting Agent.

BRIDGES, ROOFS AND TURN-TABLES.

Iron Work for Buildings, Jails, Etc.

SUBSTRUCTURES AND FOUNDATIONS A SPECIALTY.

Specifications, Plans and Estimates Furnished on Application.

LARGE AND ATTRACTIVE SALE

—OF—

FINE DECORATED CHINA!

AT AUCTION,

At 65 Whitehall Street, Corner Hunter,

Commencing Saturday, May 16th, and continuing every day, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., until the stock is sold.

We have the finest stock of China ware in this market at auction, embracing full Dinner, Tea and Toilet sets, all the latest style. Ladies are especially invited. Sale positive without reserve.

D. P. ELLIS, Auctioneer.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS!

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED UP

to 10 o'clock a.m., on the 25th inst., at the office

of W. F. Station, superintendent for the erection

and completion of the first street school building.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of

Kimball, Wheeler & Perkins, architects, Constitution

building. Also at the same time and place bids will be received for the completion of the Calhoun street

school building. For particulars, apply to Dr.

Thomas S. Powell, chairman building committee.

The board reserves the right to reject any or all

proposals for either of the above works.

W. F. STATION, Sec. Board of Education.

apr24-dim

OPIMUM

WHISKY HABITS CURED.

THE LEADER OF

JOHN KEELY'S NEW GOODS!

200 Cases, NEW GOODS RECEIVED

IN THE PAST THREE DAYS!

No Competition

3,000 YARDS

CUT LENGTHS

Of Dress Lawns!

3 1/2 Cts. a Yard!

HERE ARE

BARGAINS FOR YOU!

TRADE BOOMING

CROWDS!

IMMENSE CROWDS

—OF—

Delighted Purchasers!

Extraordinary "Drive" in Dress Goods!

To Close Them Out!

Too Many Dress Goods

IN STOCK!

Must Unload!

Beautiful Dress Goods 5c yard, reduced from

10 cents!

Solid color, spring cashmeres, good goods,

6 1/2c yard, goods which have always sold at 12 1/2c! Let them go!

Handsome broadened Nun's veilings 6 1/2c yard, reduced from 12 1/2c!

Handsome plaids, 7 1/2c yard, reduced from 12 1/2c!

Really beautiful dress goods, new spring styles, 12 1/2c yard, reduced from 25c!

100 pieces double width cashmeres, excellent goods!

12 1/2 CENTS YARD!

This is the most wonderful thing for the price I ever saw! Just reduced from 20c!

100 pieces lovely spring cashmeres, 20c yard, double width, fine goods, sold last week at 15c yard!

63 pieces better grades double width

CASHMERE

25c. Yard!

The same quality as those sold last week at 40c.

THE BEST LINE OF

25c. & 35c. Dress Goods

ever shown in Atlanta! REDUCED FROM

40c. AND EVEN 50c. YARD TO CLOSE

THEM OUT!

THE WONDER

OF THE

DRY GOODS

TRADE!

300 Pieces Lovely

Nun's Veiling

(WOOL FILLING)

10c. YD.

This Goods is worth 25c

Anywhere!

THIS GOODS SELLS FOR

WHOL

58, 60, 62 and 64

JOHN KEELY,

THE LEADER OF

25 CENTS EVERYWHERE!

YOU NEVER SAW THE LIKE OF IT FOR

LESS THAN 25 CENTS!

Black Lace Buntings.

Wool filling

7 1/2c. A YARD!

Goods which I have sold for 25c. a yard!

All wool Biege and tan colored

French Cashmeres

37 1/2c. A YARD!

Goods reduced from 60c. a yard!

4,000 yards beautiful printed Pique, 5c. a yard, well worth 10c. anywhere!

100 beautiful white Embroidered Robes $2.50

each, worth $4!

NOW IS YOUR TIME

for bargains in Dress Goods!

They will be closed out regardless of value!

SHIRTS!

RICIDULOUSLY LOW PRICES!

Gent's linen bosom shirts,

25 C. EACH!

The labor expended in their manufacture is worth the price!

Gent's linen bosom, reinforced. Shirts, good muslin bodies,

40 C. EACH!

Well worth 65c.

A very good shirt indeed, all sizes, well cut,

well made garments,

50 C. EACH!

Worth 75c. anywhere.

I will sell you THE BEST 75c SHIRT IN America!

It is as well made as anything to be had at $1.00!

It is composed of excellent muslins and fine linens!

I used to sell this shirt at $1.00 each, but have made arrangements to take the entire product of the factory, and by being satisfied with a very small profit, I am enabled to offer it to you at 75c!

I sell the "Diamond" Shirt for $1.00!

It is the best in the world for the price!

NOTHING CAN FIT BETTER THAN THE

DIAMOND SHIRT!

A FINE ASSORTMENT OF Night Shirts!

Gent's Fancy Percale Shirts, with and without collars, 50c each, goods well worth 85c!

Extra Fine Percale Shirts for Gentlemen, detached Collars and Cuffs, 75c each, usually sold for $1.25!

Best assortment in the city of Gent's Working Shirts, at 25c, 35c, 40c, 50c, 75c and $1.00

each!

Superb Line of Boys' Shirts for every age,

at every price!

Boys' Collars and Cuffs!

Gent's Collars and Cuffs!

Handsome Line of Neckwear!

Excellent Shirt Waists for Boys at 25c each!

This Shirt Stock is worthy of your attention!

You will find in it "Bargains" not to be matched!

500 PIECES

Ginghams

AND

Chambrays.

THE LOVELIEST STYLES

Ever shown over a counter in Georgia.

JUST OPENED!

They consist only of novelties!

There are 250 styles of them!

Only two pieces of a pattern!

Mind What I Tell You Now!

You will never have such a variety to choose from again.

KEELY,

THE LEADER OF

25 CENTS EVERYWHERE!

YOU NEVER SAW THE LIKE OF IT FOR

LESS THAN 25 CENTS!

Black Lace Buntings.

Wool filling

7 1/2c. A YARD!

Goods which I have sold for 25c. a yard!

All wool Biege and tan colored

French Cashmeres

37 1/2c. A YARD!

Goods reduced from 60c. a yard!

4,000 yards beautiful printed Pique, 5c. a

yard, well worth 10c. anywhere!

100 beautiful white Embroidered Robes $2.50

each, worth $4!

</

THE TOWNSSES

THEIR COUSINS.

A Tale of Middle Georgia.

BY RICHARD MALCOMB JOHNSTON, Author of "THE DUCKSBOGHOE TALES," in Harpers and Country.

[Copyright 1885, by the Author. All rights reserved.]

PART II.

On that same night another conjugal chat was had in the neighborhood. Joe Willis had returned from his field, eaten his supper, and he and his wife sat before the fire. She had been waiting to see him settled and still; for he was naturally a restless little man, and, I suppose I ought to add, remarkably handsome, as this was the main reason why he had succeeded in getting such a wife.

"Joe, Nancy Towns says she isn't going to move over to your Aunt Sally's, and she says that if she was in your place, she wouldn't go to fending in that heater, at least yet awhile. She had other things to say to her husband; but she determined to withhold them for the present. Ryal had been over there that morning and said he might move his fence at once and pay his own price, and at his own time, and Joe was ruminating.

"Nancy," he answered with his usual courteous start in discussing with his wife questions on which they were not in entire accord, "Nancy may tend to her own business, Mandy, and I'll try to tend to mine."

"The reason she gives, Joe, is that she thinks the property belongs to her, and that she is doing it in justice, and will belong as much to you Aunt Sally and Wiley as to Ryal. But, Nancy, don't you know anything about it, Mandy?" said he petulantly. "Women don't understand about land, nor the titles to land. Now, Mandy, the titles to all the land up to last Wednesday evening, when titles lay in Uncle Tom, the heater and all, which, as to that, he'd never took me outen it where he flung me. But you see now, Mandy, Uncle Tom's dead, and he's outen him, and settled in Ryal's name, and the will he left. And therefore, Mandy, titles them."

"Look at me, Joe. Turn round and look at me." Joe turned and looked at her. "What do you see?" he asked. "I see a man who's not exactly opposed to, but quivering to, and looking up at the ceiling wisely and intently as he delivered himself of these legal dithers. 'Turn round and look at me,' says she. 'Nancy, says that your Uncle Tom, from what Ryal tells her, did not give to Wiley the property that he said he was going to give him the very night before he made his will.'"

"Lor' me, Mandy, can't a man change his mind, and especially about the making of wills and passing the titles to landed property? A man may talk, and talk, and talk, both before and after, as to that matter, he'd signed the papers; but it's not his talk neither before nor after, that passes the titles, but it's the papers, and which, Nancy, and in fact winning in general."

"As for changing a man's mind, Joe, of course he can do that. I've known you even to do that when you four times was wrong."

"Oh, thunder!" and Joe resumed his former position.

"As you're certain to do now," he turned square around and said.

"What about that heater that's made me keep you two strings of fence for the last ten years when I oughtn't to've kept up but one string? I'll tell you, Mandy, I'll tell you."

"She rose, lifted her chair and set it down close by her husband.

"Joe, there's something mighty bad about all this business."

"Good gracious me alive, Mandy! It is a bad piece of business; but it is any o' mine? Did I have anything to do with the making of Uncle Tom's will or the—shootin' of him?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself for asking me any such question."

"Well, you look like—ah, you look like—"

"Well, Joe, if I look that way I deserve my looks, as the saying is. Of course, we all know how your Uncle Tom was killed, but every body believes it was an accident."

"Of course it isn't. If it had—Joe got up and walked the floor.

"You see, Mandy," said he, returning to calm discussion of legal principles, "when I came close the heater into my possession, my peaceable possession, you mind, Mandy, so far as Ryal's concerned, it was a matter of fact, and landed property, Mandy, is a thing that women, as a general thing—not that I don't think a heap of Nancy, and suppose you know, Mandy, you ought to know my opinion of you."

"Joe rubbed his curly head passionately as he walked up and down.

"Joe," said his wife, turning and following him with her eyes, "you've walked, you've never taken my advice and been sorry for it."

"Mandy," said Joe, pausing, looking at his wife and speaking almost in a whisper: "I'm afraid not to go on to fending in that heater after Ryal told me to. Ryal Towns is my cousin; but he's—Ryal's a curious fellow."

"She rose up instantly.

"Joe, let me ask you a question. Aren't you a man?"

"What did you say, Mandy?"

"I'll try to speak distinct so that there mayn't be a mistake. Did you know Mister Josiah Willis if he wasn't a man?"

"If I ain't—if I ain't mistaken 'bout my own self, I am. Lastways, I'll go so far as to give it as my opinion, that, I think, I am. But in such a case, piece of business as this, I'd just as well not know what seat he belonged to."

"Well, then, I'd be a man, and I'd keep on being a man. You are one man and Ryal Towns another, and I can't see how one man, if he is a man, can be afraid of another man who is nothing more than a man. And yet there stands my husband, whom I love better than my own life, who asks me what that heater is for."

"She put her hand to her eyes, turned from him, and sobbed.

"Oh! Joe, Joe," she proceeded, yet weeping; "you are an honest hearted man as I ever lived, in spite of the wretched examples you've had in your Uncle Tom and Ryal. Thank God, you've never loved 'em much. But I didn't think you was afraid of 'em, and now, this very week, you haven't been; and I want to know what it's about, and I'm going to find out before I go to bed." Then clearing her face she continued; "But here I do that, I'll give you a message that was left here for this evening by Buck Sinkler."

"Who from?"

"William Mobley."

"What upon earth can William Mobley want with me?"

"That I can't tell; but he told Buck to tell you that he wanted to see you on urgent business Monday morning, unless you could go to town to-morrow. The will's a going to be brought into court a Monday, and he wants to see you before hand. He was going to send the sheriff with a party of 'em, and nab; but Buck said it wasn't worth while, because he'd tell you. And he said also to Buck that from what he had heard about the will he believed he could break it."

"Joe walked rapidly across the room several times without saying a word.

She watched him as he walked. On one side of the fireplace was a cradle in which lay asleep another little Joe, a year old. She rose, went to the cradle, pulled the covering from the child's face and said:

"Come here, Joe."

"Look down there. There lies Joe Willis the second, beautiful like his father, and loved by me next to his father. But, do you know, Joe, that I'd rather he would die to-night, there in his cradle, than to grow up to a man and be afraid to die right for fear of another man."

"Joe pulled at his hair as he hated it. She took a chair, and drew another close beside it; then said:

"Come here, Joe, sit down by me, and let us talk, heart to heart, as we promised to do with each other."

Joe took the chair. They sat long together and their talk was the beginning of a conjugal career happier than it had ever been before.

CHAPTER VI.

Ryal Towns was deeply pained by the knowledge of the sympathy there was in the neighborhood for his stepmother and brother, and the universal sentiment that the homicide was wholly accidental.

Late on Sunday afternoon he rode over to Joe Willis'. Finding that Joe was gone to town he was greatly surprised, and asked of his wife the reason. She answered that William Mobley had sent a message to him that he wished to see him, but about what she could not say. Mr. Sinkler who brought it didn't know. He mused awhile, then without alighting from his horse, turned the wheel and rode back.

The court having jurisdiction of the estates of minors and deceased persons, with that of general public county business, consisted of five justices, resident citizens. The greater part of Monday had been consumed in the matters of roads and bridges, and it was midway in the afternoon before the constitution case came on. When it did, Mr. Elam Sandridge, as counsel for Ryal Towns, presented the last will and testament of Thomas Towns in common form; that is, without any clause as to all parties presumed to be interested, a procedure which made it unnecessary to seriously contest at this juncture.

William Mobley, a young lawyer, who was the attorney for the estate of the deceased, relative of the Sinklers, had been retained by Buck to watch the case and obtain whatever was possible for Mrs. Towns and Wiley. This he was doing with an undeviating regard, as a student in working the case had sent the message to Joe Willis, before referred to.

When the case was opened he asked of Mr. Sandridge permission to inspect the paper, and he read it carefully and then rose and said:

"May it please your honors, the paper 'proposed' seems to have been executed in conformity to all legal requirements. In the codicil of the will, however, but for reasons which it is not now necessary to explain, I might contend, on the part of those whom I represent, there are conditions which would show that the testator's mind was not fully determined when the will was signed. But I propose to put the case of my clients upon other grounds."

Then taking his hat, he withdrew from the court house and went to his office.

"It's no use talking, Buck," he said an hour afterwards, as with the letter and the sheriff, Trip, standing in the vestibule of his office, he looked at Ryal while, with his letters testamentary in his hand, he was making for his apartment at the hotel. "I don't know what you're doing, but you can't stop such things, Buck. God Almighty won't let them stop. I suspect you're from the first."

Ryal unheeded his horse and had his foot in the stirrup ready to mount when Trip's hand was laid upon his shoulder. He shrank as if it were a heavy bar of heated iron.

"I'm sorry to interrupt you, Mr. Towns," said Trip, "but I've a paper for you." He held it up before his face so he could see the superscription.

"My God!" exclaimed Ryal, and leaned against the rack. "Who says so, Trip?"

Who started this? Further utterance was choked in his throat. He requested to be allowed to go to his room. The sheriff conducted him thither and waited at the door until he emerged. Then as it was too late to procure bail, even Halloway, Trip, by consent of Mobley, rather than that Ryal in jail, took him to his own house for the night. Buck Sinkler had already sent a messenger to Wiley requesting him to notify Ryal's wife that he would be arrested on a criminal charge, without saying what. It was late at night when Wiley reached town with his sister-in-law, as their residence was sixteen miles distant. He and Trip, who had been at the meeting of husband and wife without tears, Ryal assured her of his innocence and she thoroughly believed it. Neither Ryal nor his wife slept that night. He lay by his side and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

Early in the day the justices, before whom the trial for commitment was to be had, met in the court room. Ryal, pale as the dead, looked hard at Joe Willis who was sitting by William Mobley. He had sought Joe several times on the day before; but as no one could tell him where he was, he had supposed Joe had returned home. Joe looked about him and seemed to see everybody in the room except Ryal. The counsel opening the case said he would follow his testimony with some circumstances tending if necessary to corroborate it. Then he asked Joe Willis to take the stand. Mrs. Towns regarded her husband and her husband regarded her, and they conversed the live long night. Stung to the heart by not finding her brother there (he had returned home by another way), she clung the closer to her husband, and when the morning came felt that never, since the day of her marriage had she loved him so dearly.

of the old man when seeing Ryal pointing the gun, he threw up his hands and cried: 'Oh, Wiley! Wiley! He's going to kill me, forgive me, Wiley. Oh, my God, forgive me!'

Then Joe told how Ryal had charged Wiley with the killing and how himself, after crawling upon his hands and knees for a few rods, had barely recovered his breath when Ryal came up.

During the recital Ryal Towns' face grew more and more livid. His head subsided until it now lay upon his arm on the table. His wife then moved her chair beside his and, taking his hand, she said: 'This is death! Oh, you judges, you lawyers, and you people, leave him with me for a little while, won't you? won't you?'

"Yes," said the court room, Mr. Sheriff, said one of the justices who, with his colleagues and the rest went out, or backed to the door.

She put her arm round her husband and drew his unresisting head to her bosom.

"There, now, that's the only place." Looking into his eyes, yet directed on high, she said:

"Ryal, do you know that the hand of God is upon you? Oh, my husband, do you know that you are dying?"

"Yes," he answered.

"Oh, my husband, my husband!" She took from her shoulders the shawl where with she was wrapped, folded it, rose from her chair, placed the shawl in it, and tenderly laid his head upon it; then knelt by his side.

"Ryal, my husband, don't go into the presence of God without repentance and confession. Oh, my Ryal, pray God to forgive you! Pray Ryal, pray my husband! Pray! Oh, my God! don't take his life till he prays!"

And then she uttered a scream so loud, so piercing, so agonizing that none who heard it could ever forget it.

"Pray for me, Nancy," he said in a whisper. She lifted her eyes toward Heaven, and in her husband's name implored pardon especially for this last great crime.

As a student in working the case had sent the message to Joe Willis, before referred to.

A year after this event Buck Sinkler and his sister, who now lived with him, were sitting by the fire in the evening. Buck had just returned from a visit to Mrs. Towns and was in low spirits. His sister said to him:

"Brother Buck, I knew it would be useless. If I could Sally about it, I could get it again, and I know she doesn't any more than I do, she wouldn't think it would be right to marry you, remember her husband had flung her out."

"Yes," answered Buck, "that's what she told me. She's a great woman, Sally. She

THE CONSTITUTION.

Published Daily and Weekly.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION is published every day in the week, and is delivered by carriers in the city, or mailed, postage free, at $1 per month, $3 for three months, or $10 a year.

THE CONSTITUTION is for sale, on all trains ending out of Atlanta, and at the principal stations in the southern cities.

ADVERTISING RATES depend on location in the paper, and will be furnished on application.

CORRESPONDENCE for obtaining important news collected from all parts of the country.

ADDRESS all letters and telegrams, and make all drafts or checks payable to

THE CONSTITUTION,

Atlanta, Georgia.

ATLANTA, MAY 17, 1885.

INDICATIONS for the South Atlantic States, taken at 1 a. m.: Local rains and partly cloudy weather; northwesterly winds; stationary temperature; in northeast portion higher temperature.

The scandals retailed by cable against Mr. Gladstone and other English leaders, surpass anything of the kind ever put forth by the most sensational papers in America.

The capture of Riel, the half-breed leader of the northwest Indian tribe, probably put an end to the Indian war. The old man went to prison as soon as he found himself in the hands of the enemy.

Postmaster-General Vilas is turning the reins out as rapidly as possible in his department. He is now giving his nights to the investigation of complaints, so as to facilitate matters as much as possible.

The English cabinet has submitted to parliament a number of papers in the Russo-Afghan correspondence, coming up to date of the Peshawar incident. The most remarkable feature brought out is that the Russian government gained every demand made.

Is there any reason that will force the council to rush through the sale of the waterworks to-morrow night? If so, what is it? There are many reasons why it would be prudent to postpone the matter for a week or so, and let the matter be fully discussed and understood. Every citizen has an interest in the waterworks. It should not be sold to a corporation for the benefit of a few. We beg the council to postpone the matter.

THE Y. M. C. A. AT WORK.

It may be fairly said that the proceedings of the convention of the Young Men's Christian association have been in the nature of a revelation to the people of Atlanta. They have disclosed a breadth, comprehension, earnestness and compactness of Christian work of which the general public had no adequate idea.

The beauty of this work is that it is neither narrow nor broad, but is as wide as the limits of Christianity itself. Its aim is to build up no sect, but simply to do good. So sincere, so practical, so all-embracing is the spirit pervading the associations, and transmitted to the convention, that even careless observers must be thankful to know that there is back of the governmental machinery, behind the turmoil of business and the whirl of society, so powerful an organization working for the elevation and purifying of the people. If there were no view but the temporal one, and if the good this association is doing were limited by its effect on the day and generation in which it works, we should even then account it the most beneficent social force which we know.

The government has established and now maintains at heavy expense a life saving service that guards our coasts. Trained men with the best appliances are placed at convenient stations to warn unwary sailors and to save such lives as may be delivered from the storm into their hands. But it has done nothing to save the thousands of young souls that are storm-tossed daily and wrecked on the shores of life. This great and glorious work, beyond the power or the purview of the government, has been reserved for the Young Men's Christian association. It has established and maintains the life saving service of the moral world. Where storms burst most steadily and where wrecks cluster thickest, there these brave and unflinching men are gathered, moving this fair young soul from off the turbulent reefs, plucking that struggling life from the eager waves. The work is God-given, God-inspired and God-directed. God will bless it, and will bless those who hold up the hands of the men who have unselfishly given themselves to it.

We thank the delegates to this convention for the amazing disclosures they have made to our people of the scope and accomplishment of the association they represent. The disclosures carry with them a lesson that will sink into the hearts of our people, and will not soon be forgotten.

THE SALE OF THE WATERWORKS.

The apathy with which the people have witnessed the proceedings in the proposed sale of the waterworks has resulted from the fact that they did not believe it possible that the sale was going to be made.

It has been generally understood that the advertising for bids was simply to test the matter and to secure some basis of valuation on which future negotiations could be made. It now transpires that the sale is about to be actually consummated. Indeed, unless the situation changes the chances are that in less than forty-eight hours the waterworks will have passed forever out of the hands of the people into the hands of a private corporation.

The council will make a grave, and we fear a fatal mistake, if it hurries this sale through before the matter can be fully and openly discussed. The control of the water supply is one of the last things a city should part with, and it should never part with it except where great and prompt advantages will accrue. We do not see what the city gains by the sale now proposed. What we need is a new system with a new source of supply. This can never have if it sells its present system and gives permanent control to a private company. The very monopoly which a scarcity of water would give the private owners would lead them to resist any attempt to build new works.

The present system is a fraud and a failure.

The city has handled it badly, and no purchaser can do worse with it. But it is a failure, in its plan, in its inadequacy and its source. It can never be patched or mended into what is great and growing city needs. We had better give it away to some company that will build a new system out and out than sell it to a company that will patch it up.

The alarm that has seized the people, as they suddenly find themselves about to be sold out of their water supply, is manifesting itself in some ugly rumors that are doubtless false. It is due the public, however, that the sale be postponed until the public can be heard. Mayor Hillyer asks for intelligent opinion. Let him wait till this opinion can find expression and the plan be fully discussed. Then, if it is wisest and best, we will agree with him that it ought to be done.

The franchise the council proposes to sell is the most important the city owns. The step once taken, and the franchise parted with, it can never be recovered. A little delay cannot possibly hurt. Undue haste may be fatal. We believe now, with the lights before us, that if the council rushes this sale through it will put Atlanta back ten years, and put a weight about her neck that she will never shake off. We appeal to the council, in the name of prudence, to put this sale off, until the people can take counsel together and see what is best to be done. Will they not do it?

THE NATIONAL COMMERCIAL CONVENTION.

On next Tuesday there will assemble in Atlanta one of the most representative bodies of men that ever met in this country. Over a hundred delegates from all parts of the country will be here to-day and to-night, and by Tuesday there will be one thousand of the solid business men of the country in Atlanta. The subjects for discussion before this convention are all important, and will be treated by able speakers.

Our people should give hearty welcome to the visitors who come. A most interesting programme is made for their entertainment.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING IN ATLANTA.

Industrial training for boys is not in this city merely a dream, a theory to be put in practice and tested. It is in actual operation. Through the generosity of two or three prominent citizens who furnished the tools and machinery—costing nearly a thousand dollars—and are meeting the monthly bill of expenses, and of three young men, one a well-equipped civil engineer, another a skilled worker in wood and still another in iron, an industrial school was opened about three months ago on Marietta street, accessible to all boys who desire to become artisans.

A tuition fee of one dollar a month is taken; for it is not a charity school in any respect, and all the boys in attendance are bright-eyed, self-respecting fellows, who plainly intend to become self-supporting, useful and, perhaps, distinguished men.

The school room is an upper floor of a factory that furnishes both space and motive power. The room is between twenty-five feet square. On one side are the desks for drawing, to which considerable attention is given; on another side are benches and appliances for working in iron; on another side are the wood-workers, and the fourth side is filled with cases of tools, a forge and a lathe for turning wood; on the floor is a lathe and a drilling machine, an anvil and the indispensable grindstone. Undoubtedly there are better equipped industrial schools in the country, but the school on Marietta street has all the tools and machines necessary to teach the fundamental principles of working in wood or iron.

The difference between instruction in a school of this nature and a shop can be seen at a glance. In the latter a boy is put at one kind of work, an incident, perhaps, of his proposed trade; and the more skillful he becomes in that particular work the more it profits the proprietor or pleases the boss to keep him as he began. It is, in fact, well-nigh impossible to become in the large shops of the present day an artisan. A boy can learn a few things connected with a trade, but it is now acknowledged that he cannot well become in them a good all-around workman. The system of large shops forbids. In our industrial school, on the other hand, a boy is not permitted to become a specialist. He is instructed in all the principles that underlie both classes of work. In a measure he must learn how to work in both wood and iron. He must learn how to do mechanical drawing. The arithmetical problems of both trades are parts of his lessons. There is but one way to hold a hammer, or any other tool; this is taught. How to sharpen and care for tools, and how to make them, are all practiced. What is the result? There are bright boys in the school in Marietta street, who, in the opinion of those qualified to speak, are competent to earn in our shops the wages of mechanics, although they have been in school only three months. None of them, however, expect to seek employment on such terms until their competency is clear and undisputed.

When the school was opened it was decided that only twenty-five students could be accommodated. Fifty applied for admission almost at the outset, and the waiting list is larger than the list of students. The boys attend from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock three times a week. They are all boys who earn a living during the day; one of them, for example, is a carrier of The Constitution. They come from all parts of the city. One walks to the school from the neighborhood of the Grant park, another comes on horseback from the country. They are boys who have strong wills, clear heads and bright faces; and when they take up their school work there is no whispering, no schoolboy pranks, no trifling whatever. They have acquired the bearing and manner of skilled and thoughtful workers; and the men whose money and labor have planted this school in our city never see the boys at work, we verily believe, without being thankful from the bottom of their great hearts that they were led to make the experiment.

We have spoken more at length of the school than we at first intended to do. We proposed at the outset to simply call attention to the fact that a beginning had been made in our city of the mighty movement that will soon sweep over the land, changing for the better our system of public education.

The hands, as well as the head, are to be taught hereafter, and the public schools of the future will take cognizance of the fact that boys who do not know said, reach or practice law or medicine, have livings to earn, and have, therefore, rights of education as well as their brothers who delve in Greek and Latin. The school we have described will remain open until the first of June, when it will be closed to be reopened in the fall. All who are interested in industrial training; in the system that proposes to make our boys who are so inclined good mechanics, should visit the school before it is closed at the end of this month. All will be welcomed, and to all who go we need not say another word. The school in operation speaks for itself.

THE MORMON PROTEST.

The Mormon church, through three of its strongest leaders, has laid before the president its grievances. It protests altogether too much, but when its long protest is analyzed it is found to be in good part a protest against the enforcement of the Edmunds act.

If the Edmunds act could become like many other acts directed against the pet sin of the Mormons, a dead letter, they would all be happy again; but unfortunately it is not so. The Mormon church is engaged in a standing squabble up to the throat with the other officers of the federal government in executing it. The president comes to the front with a declaration that the Edmunds law shall be enforced. The Edmunds law declares that polygamy is a crime. It is the will of fifty millions of people; it is the sentiment of the entire country, the saints alone excepted; and the courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of Mormon evasion or Mormon perjury. Polygamists are no longer in that territory tried by polygamists. The plea that the practices of the saints are a part of a religion, or the plea that women and children will suffer if plural marriages are abolished, is disregarded. The courts in Utah have no enough to see that it is applied, altogether regardless of

DR. BIGGERS'
HUCKLEBERRY CORDIAL

FOR THE BOWELS & CHILDREN TEETHING
It is the GREAT SOUTHERN REMEDY for the bowels. It is one of the most pleasant and efficacious remedies for all summer complaints. At a season when violent attacks of the bowels are frequent, some speedy relief should be at hand. The cordial, which is used in teething, is a little one, and is used in a few drops. It is a bottle of cordial, and a bottle of Huckleberry Cordial, for Little Buds.

Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein, which cures Croup and Consumption. Price 25c. and $1 a bottle.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED UNTIL 10 O'CLOCK, A. M., Friday, May 15th, 1885, for furnishing all materials necessary and building a brick institute building on the corner of Peachtree and Adams streets, to be completed by the 1st day of January, 1886, and to be paid for when received by the architect. Full and complete specifications can be seen at the offices of Bruce & Morgan, Atlanta, Ga., and J. A. B. Mahaffey, Secretary Building Committee, Jefferson, Ga.

The right is reserved by the building committee, to reject any and all bids.
All bids or proposals must be directed to the secretary building committee, Martin Institute, Jefferson, Ga.
J. A. B. MAHAFFEY,
Secretary Building Committee.
H. W. BELL,
J. A. B. MAHAFFEY,
A. H. BROCK,
Building Committee.

April 28 1885. 600

MAGNUS & HIGHTOWER, Agents.

Tag Your Dogs.

COME TO THE CITY CLERK'S OFFICE AND get a tag for your dog, or the Dog Catcher will take him and have him killed. Office in Chamber of Commerce building.
J. H. GOLDSMITH, City Clerk.

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

OFFICE OF

S. H. VENABLE & CO.,

THROUGH THE CITY.

ITEMS OF INTEREST GATHERED ON THE STREETS.

What the Scribers Found to Write About Yesterday.

The Courts—The Police Department—What the Real Estate Agents and Builders are Doing—Accidents of the Day.

Forty-six names on Saturday's payroll of M. Mack, the paper decorator and painter.

McNeal WALL PAPER and window shades. Stamps for sale at Construction office.

See city tax collector's notice. Three per cent discount.

The new moon made its appearance yesterday afternoon.

See city tax collector's notice. Three per cent discount.

The Tallulah excursionists who were made sick by the poisoned ice cream, have all recovered.

See city tax collector's notice. Three per cent discount.

Dr. Smith & Patterson have moved their Dental office to the rear of Chamberlin, Johnson & Co. Entrance on Hunter street.

A large crowd went up to the Baptist Sunday-school picnic at Powder Springs, yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon Mattie Echols, five year old daughter of W. P. Echols, died of fever at her parents' home. She was a bright and interesting child.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. convention are all invited to attend the exercises of Trinity Sunday school, corner Peters and Whitehall at 9:30 this morning.

A special rate to New Orleans and return will go into effect to-morrow for the benefit of the delegates now attending the Y. M. C. A. The round trip will be ten dollars.

Yesterday afternoon Jim Baker and Ned White, two negro men engaged in a cutting scrape near Silver Springs. The two men fell out about nothing. Baker was badly hacked about the breast and neck, but was not seriously hurt.

The young ladies of the Sixth Baptist church will give a musical and ice cream festival at Mrs. McCoy's, corner Davis and Carter streets, next Friday night, May 22d. Come out and help the ladies and have a good time.

Yesterday afternoon about half-past five o'clock a lively runaway occurred on Decatur street. A pair of mules hitched to a heavy wagon started near Collins street and ran to Bell street. The wagon was loaded with flour and sacks were scattered all along the route.

Two gold medals have been awarded the Pullman Palace car company by the world's exposition at New Orleans, one for the best sleeping car, and one for the best parlor car. The competitors were the Woodruff Company, Mann Boudoir car company and the Jackson & Sharpe manufacturing company. There seems to be a strong likelihood of a railroad that can excel the Pullman Palace car.

The Library Election.

The election officers for the coming year in the Young Men's Library association takes place next Tuesday at the library hall from 2 o'clock to 6 o'clock. All members whose dues are paid are qualified voters. The outgoing board will support the following ticket:

President—Thos. E. Walker.

Vice-President—Thompson, Jr.

Secretary—Clark Howell.

Treasurer—Barton Smith.

Directors—C. D. Woodson, Samuel Weil, W. A. Heywood, G. A. Chaney.

A Prominent Former Writer.

ROBERT STATION, Jones county, Ga., June 20th, 1884.—By the recommendation of Rev. C. J. Davis I use Dr. Moseley's Lemon Elixir for indigestion, debility and nervous prostration, having been a great sufferer for years and tried all known remedies. I have been cured of all my troubles. Five bottles of Lemon Elixir made a new man of me, and restored my strength and energy so that I can stand on my feet with all ease and comfort. Send me one more.

WILLIAM B. EMBERTON.

A Card From Catheter.

This is to certify that I used Dr. Moseley's Lemon Elixir for neuralgia of the head and eyes with the best results. I have been cured of all my troubles. I would gladly have paid $500 for the relief it has given me at a cost of two or three dollars.

C. C. GRIFFIN.

Clerk Superior Court, Randolph Co., Ga.

Decatur Street.

This street begins at Peachtree and runs east, and is just north of the Georgia railroad. Belgian blocks will be laid to where the rubble stone begins at Bell street, that this summer street cars will run along it to Daniel street beyond the Boulevard. The sidewalks have been paved out as far as the Air Line railroad crossing. Decatur street is nearly a continuous line of stores, shops, manufactories and depots. Hundreds of people are employed in these establishments. These people and those in the Air Line shops and factory have been the cause of many of the troubles of the city. Hence, Sam'l W. Goode invites them to his sale of lots, on Decatur street, on Thursday, next Thursday, and asks them to seriously consider the question of securing a home now while real estate is lower than for years. It has been or will be again. The terms of the sale are very liberal, and no doubt if any reliable man should desire to change the terms to suit any special emergency, it could be arranged satisfactorily with Mr. Goode, who will furnish plans free and all particulars, at his office. Go to the sale.

The old rivals, Columbus-Atlanta, Monday, Athletic Park. Championship game.

A Challenge.

The largest and only complete assortment of all trades furniture at T. C. F. H. J. G. for cash or on partial payment plan, fancy chairs and rockers at bargain cost.

F. H. SPOOK.

4,000 people who saw Columbus beat Atlanta last year will go out to Athletic Park Monday.

E. Mater & Co., Wholesale Jewelers, No. 8 Marietta Street.

Have just returned from the north with a large and well selected stock of jewelry, Swiss and American watches, notions, clocks, etc. We are agents for the American clock and watch Patent articles, and have also bought 500 second-hand silver watches in good order at a pawnbroker's sale. Give us a call and we will show you the goods we have brought from the factories for spot cash. We respectfully invite you to trade to inspect our stock and we guarantee prices.

su, we, 2m

4,000 people who saw Columbus beat Atlanta last year will go out to Athletic Park Monday.

Cakes and Bread baked fresh every day, 43 Peachtree.

Columbus-Atlanta, the two league leaders, Monday, Championship game. Don't miss it.

See Hub Collins play Monday. Columbus-Atlanta. Hub is forgiven.

MILLINERY.

MISS MARY RYAN HAS NOW ON HAND A large and varied assortment of new millinery goods. These goods are new and fresh, and her taste embraces all the novelties of the season. Hats trimmed and untrimmed. Flowers. Hair nets and in fact every thing kept in a first-class house. Ladies will do well to call at 45 Whitehall street.

MISS MARY RYAN.

Freshest and best bread and cakes of purest flour, at Whann & Co., 43 Peachtree.

Bowden Lithia Water.

It is a significant fact that we test the efficacy of Bowden Lithia water give it their hearty endorsement. There are many citizens of Atlanta who have been so greatly benefited by the use of the water that they make it a point to recommend its use to all their acquaintances who are afflicted with dyspepsia, indigestion, disordered stomachs or kidney diseases.

It is generally thought that the remarkable medicinal qualities of the water have only been recently discovered, but this is a mistake. The people who live in the neighborhood of the spring have known of the efficacy of the water for years, and have subjected it to various tests. Owing to the slight saline taste of the water the spring has been known as Salt Springs, but the name is a misleading one, and will not be employed.

Messrs. E. W. Marsh & Sons have made arrangements to introduce the water on the market, and it can now be shipped to any part of the country. We have already alluded to some of the cures that have been effected. All of the above are within the knowledge of the writer of this, and the CONSTITUTION vouches for the truth of every statement that has been made in these columns. As a blood purifier, as a specific for dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles, and as a remedy for kidney disease, Bowden Lithia water is among the medicinal waters of this country. Information on this subject may be obtained from Messrs. E. W. Marsh & Sons, of Atlanta, or from Willis E. Venable, at Jacobs' pharmacy.

SABBATH REPORT.

Weak Limbs Made Strong, Catarrh Cured, Families Made Happy.

Another week's successful work has passed at the Markham house, where Drs. E. W. Marsh and French have been producing the most wonderful cures. These physicians are meeting with the success that their wonderful skill deserves.

James Padgett, Rome, has been cured in two weeks of painful ulcer on the eye, which had rendered him almost blind, although treated by physicians of that city.

Miss Fardon, of Decatur, was refused treatment because her case is incurable. She has spent a great deal of money for treatment, but says she never found a doctor before that refused a fee. H. H. Nunn, Gate City Lodge K. of H., was refused treatment on the grounds that he was a Mason.

Mrs. W. City, has been completely cured of ulcer of the rectum. She regards herself the happiest woman of Atlanta, because of her restored condition.

George W. Dallas, had indigestion, fullness, palpitation, headache, loss of memory, reports "himself never recovered." Says Drs. W. & F. have done wonders for him the past three weeks.

Miss Lee, city, had heart disease, dropsy, had been tapped twice, limbs swollen and kidneys inflamed. In five weeks' treatment she is greatly relieved.

C. A. Manck, house and sign painter, corner Pryor and Alabama streets, received treatment for neuralgia. Had been under the most skillful specialist in Atlanta without any improvement. Whatever Drs. Marsh and French have well nigh cured him in one month.

Hardy Lee, Sandusky, rheumatism in shoulders, arms and back, was relieved in five minutes. Mr. Frith, 8 Orme street, chronic disease of a bladder, greatly relieved, and is getting well. A bladder disease cannot be cured, from the great many cases successfully treated, from the effects of the disease cannot be mentioned.

And now that the doctors have determined to shorten their stay to go to the northern lakes for summer, these afflicted should not postpone their visit to the doctors. They make no attempt to be sensational, but merely to state a few cases that have been treated or successfully cured. The doctors have a few more Health Journals for distribution. Patients can be successfully treated at their home by giving a description of their cases.

McBRIDE Told You So! GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA AT WORLD'S EXPOSITION ON "DRY AIR REFRIGERATORS." McBRIDE & Co., SOLE AGENTS FOR GEORGIA AND ALABAMA. WE HAVE BEEN TELLING YOU SOME TIME THAT McBRIDE KEPT THE BEST OF EVERYTHING.

O. I. C.

(Old Indian Cure.)

Is the best blood remedy known. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and never known to fail. It has been tested in thousands of cases that baffled the skill of physicians.

Dr. Joseph Palmer, Fagin, Ga., writes: "I have used it extensively in my practice twenty years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it a specific for blood diseases in any form."

Dr. F. A. Doomer, Perry, Ga., says: "It is the best blood purifier known, and to suffering women a God-send for their peculiar ailments."

It will promptly relieve menstrual troubles in any stage. Scarcity, Bloating, White Swelling, Catarrh, Old Sores, Rheumatism, Ulcers, Etcetera and every kind of blood disease, or skin disease due to impure blood. $1.50 per large bottle.

This O. I. C. Co., Perry, Ga.

Sold in Atlanta, Ga., wholesale and retail by Hutchinson & Bro., 14 Whitehall, and Retail by O. O. Tynes, corner Broad and Marietta, and Geo. D. Sawyer, corner Decatur and Peachtree.

Whann & Co.'s Cakes and Bread famous as the best in Georgia. Try them. 43 Peachtree.

Columbus-Atlanta, the two league leaders, Monday, Championship game. Don't miss it.

Cakes, Bread, all kinds, to order at Whann & Co.'s, 43 Peachtree.

1w ex mon

78 Lots Together 78

28 Lots Together 28

106 Lots all Together 106

AT AUCTION

By Sam'l W. Goode,

NEAR E. T. V. & GA. R. R. SHOPS.

TUESDAY, MAY 19th, 3 P. M.

Plats Free at my Office.

FREE RIDE TO THE SALE AT 2:30 P. M. ON day of sale. Free hacks from corner Whitehall and Marietta during afternoon of sale.

SAM'L W. GOODE.

No. 1 Marietta St., Cor. Peachtree.

ONLY THE

Georgia Pacific R'y.

Will sell excursion tickets Atlanta to New Orleans at the low rate

$10.00

Two Daily Express Trains

Leaving Atlanta at 1:10 p. m., 11:06 p. m., passing through the picturesque mountain scenery, coal and iron fields, Alabama.

Mann Boudoir Cars

THROUGH

WITHOUT CHANGE.

Berths Secured in Advance. For further information address

SAM'L W. WEBB, Pass. Agent, Atlanta.

ALEX. S. THWAITT, Trav. Pass. Agent, Atlanta.

L. S. BROWN, G. P. A., Birmingham.

East Tennessee Short Line

To Charleston, S. C., Thursday, May 21st. Round trip rate, Atlanta to Charleston and return only $6.

Good ten days via Macon, Jesup and Savannah. Call at East Tennessee Short Line ticket office, corner Kimball house.

STILSON.

Reliable Goods, Fair Deal

53 WHITEHALL STB

CAMPBELL WALLACE, JR.

IF YOU WANT A TRUNK, VALISE

OR SATCHEL

PLEASE CALL AND

HUZZA TRUNK FACTORY,

55 South Pryor St.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

REPAIRING

GEORGE MUSE,

CLOT

38 WHITEHALL

My Spring and Summer stock is

Boys' and Children's suits in Great stock of Fine Imported Corkscrews is elegant. Call and examine.

lowest.

GEORGE MUSE,

38 Whitehall.

G. W. ADAIR, Auctioneer.

WEST END PROPERTY.

68 Beautiful Lots 68

I WILL SELL ON THE PREMISES, TUESDAY

May 26, 3 P. M.

68 Perfectly Beautiful Residence

Lots, Being a Sub-division of

--15 ACRES--

FRONTING ON GORDON STREET IN WEST

End. This property fronts on macadamized street only a short distance from the end of the West End street railway and Stanton's elevated spring. The entire tract is a smooth, level plateau, on one of the highest points in Fulton county, on a dry ridge or water shed, commanding a splendid view of city and surrounding landscape. Close to and opposite many of those handsome cottages that present so many attractions to that popular suburb, where the splendid public academy and new Park street church have added so much to the convenience and good taste of those waiting homes where they are free from present or prospective sewerage, and have pure, cool water.

The lots will be sold with the privilege of as many as purchaser wish in each block. A part of this land is covered by a beautiful forest grove. The balance is cleared ready for gardening. Every acre presents a home convenient to street cars, churches, schools, and with a surrounding present offering every attraction and attribute necessary to make a home happy. are invited to call, get a plat, go out and examine this property, pick out your lot, attend the sale and buy it.

Every lot offered will be sold absolutely on its merits, with perfect title.

Special street cars to sale and back.

One-third cash, 6 and 12 months, 8 per cent.

5 Wall St., G. W. ADAIR.

17, 19, 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27

WINDOW GLASS

Of all sizes, single and double—3,000 boxes on hand.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO USE—

WADSWORTH, MARTINEZ & LONGMAN'S

PURE PAINTS.

THERE IS NOTHING BETTER—CALL FOR OUR list of 364 houses that have been painted with our "Red" and "Compound" Paints. For

DIAMOND MERCHANTS
ATLANTA, GA.
Paving and Gilding China for Amateurs,
At Lyette's Art School, 67 Whitehall Street.
Persons in all branches, artists, etc.,
Write for circulars.

TO THE TRADE.
IMPROVED FLY PANS
MILLVILLE FRUIT JARS
ICE CREAM REFRIGERATORS GATE CITY STONE FILTERS
Hotel and Saloon Fixtures.
Best Goods, Lowest Prices.
McBRIDE'S,
32 Wall St., Opposite Pass. Depot.

DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, WATCHES.
Largest Stock in the South. Send for our Illustrated Price-List.
J. P. STEVENS & CO.
WHITEHALL ST.

First Methodist Church.
The congregation at the First Methodist church will have a rare treat today. The services, by Dr. Hopkins in the morning, and Rev. Mr. Yarn-man in the evening, will repay any hearer.
The music, conducted by the chorus choir of the Y. M. C. A. convention, will be superb, and most attractive feature of service. Seats are free and the public are cordially invited. Ushers are always present to welcome strangers and wait on the congregation.

Secure a Cottage Home
At Sam'l W. Goode's sale, Wednesday next, May 20th, 4 p. m., at the corner of Walnut and Parsons streets. You will have your choice of a two, or three, or four room cottage on very liberal terms.
I will fix the price by your bids at auction, and get a plot at Mr. Goode's office.

A Card of Thanks From Marietta.
Mr. James C. Senger and his sister, Miss Minnie, write to return their sincere and heartfelt thanks to Mrs. S. C. Senger and her sister, Mr. Johnson and wife, and to a number of other friends who kindly received while they were suffering from the effects of the ice cream poisoning on the Talculation.

Stitch, Stich, Stich. All Day Long.
Sewing women, read what Frierson & Scott have to say to you in the 10c column about a home.

Buy a Home?
Real estate is a good thing. Those who have no home ought to be wise enough to get one while the market is so favorable to buyers. They can get property at low prices and on liberal terms.
Samuel W. Goode sells 100 lots next Tuesday night at 4 p. m. and on the 20th of the month of sale will be so liberal that anybody can get a lot by paying a few dollars cash down, and a few dollars every three months for a year. Plot at Mr.
Goode's office free for all.

Attention is especially called to the sale of Colonel G. W. Adair, on Peachtree street, corner North avenue. He will sell Monday afternoon at 4 p. m., one of the prettiest lots on that fashionable residence street and a very convenient seven room house. His recent sale on that street has evidenced that Peachtree property is still on top and capitalists and those wanting an elegant home are invited to attend this sale which will be without any reserve whatever.

John Keely.
"The Leader of Low Prices," calls attention to our issue of today to the fact that he is offering special bargains in dry goods. He is determined to close them out before the time for selling them has past. His bargains in the gingham, cham-bray, and silk are something wonderful, and will attract a very large patronage. Be sure you read the notices, they are always full of good and sensible and strict business matter. There is no "fourth of July" about them. They are simply straight-forward statements, and the prices are always quoted from the goods whilst under review. Nobody has so large a patronage as John Keely, and nobody is better for you, for you always find good attention, low prices and good goods at his house. His stock of millinery has been greatly replenished in the past few days, and is marked by the beauty which is everywhere prominent in it. His stock of men's straw hats and also boys' straw hats is very fine, and his shoe department is literally overrun with promising goods. He is giving away a great many of the goods. The captain has several notices in our paper today. Be sure you read them, there is money in them for you.

Whitehall Residence—A Bargain.
It is central, it is new, it is modern in style, it has nine large rooms, hot and cold water, gas, paved sidewalks, macadamized streets, excellent schools, street car line in front of it, and a good house. Must sell. Offers solicited. Sam'l W. Goode.

Shop Men and Mechanics, Read!
What Frierson & Scott have to say to you about a home, and their sale list of 10c column, they are to sell Monday May 20. See 10c column.

HIGH'S.
We will offer ladies the greatest drives you ever saw in Fans, parasols, hosiery, embroideries, laces and gloves as well millinery, silks, dress goods, linens, domestics, and by far the largest line of white goods, gingham, chambrays, muslins.

We are right to the front, always on our merits.
HIGH.
The controller of the low price system.

Read! Why Pay Rent?
See what Frierson & Scott have to offer in 10c column, both in way of farms and cheap homes.

Every Day During
—THE—
Beautiful Month of May

The East Tennessee short line will sell excursion ticket from Atlanta to Savannah and return, Jacksonville and return, at lowest rates ever offered. Call at headquarters where cheap rates are first offered, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, corner Kimball house.

BY SAMUEL W. GOODE.
TEN LOTS ON THE BOULEVARD, DECATUR AND FITZGERALD STREETS,
AT AUCTION,
TUESDAY, MAY 21st, 4 P. M.
Free ride to sale from my office at 3:30 p. m.
Street cars run right by the lots. They are near Fulton county spinning mills, the Air Line shop and depot, and shops along the Georgia railroad, convenient for houses and desirable for renting purposes. Terms, one-third cash, balance 3, 6, 9 and 12 months with 5 per cent interest. Titles perfect.
No. 1 Marietta, corner Peachtree street.

HIGH'S.
Overwhelming bargains To-morrow in Millinery department,
1,000 fine Milan hats at $1.
1,500 finest satin straw hats at $1.25.
1,500 Canton hats at 25c.
2,000 rough and ready hats at 25 cents.
All new shapes,
New flowers, new scarfs,
New plaid ribbons.
You can certainly Save money, if you
Will only investigate.

New Buildings.
ATLANTA, Ga., May 16.—Contracts were signed today in my office by Mr. James Lynch, owner, and Mr. John C. Bishop, contractor, for the erection of four new stores on Decatur street, at a cost of $7,500, the stores to be 75 feet front by 60 feet deep, two stories high, with a basement cellar, and are to be built of brick and stone, with galvanized iron cornices. The stores to be ready for occupation on the 1st of August, and the 1st of September.
E. G. LIND, Architect.

BY SAMUEL W. GOODE,
AN ELEGANT HOME
—ON—CAPITOL AVENUE, CORNER CLARK STREET,
"THE WEEMS PLACE."
AT AUCTION ON THE PREMISES, JUNE 2D,
—P. M.—
Plans with full particulars ready at my office, Wednesday, the 20th. The choicest homes on the market.
SAM'L W. GOODE.

HIGH'S.
Artistic millinery
At less prices
Than trashy styles.
Mr. High's late purchases Were way under Value.
Come and see. HIGH'S.

Prof. Holland will picnic at Ponce de Leon spring next Wednesday, May 20, 1885. All who received invitations last year are respectfully invited.

In our shoe department we certainly feel that there is no reason why we should not sell every person who wants goods of this kind.
No shoddy. No bankrupt shoes, but every pair warranted in style and quality. Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

HIGH'S.
Late arrival in Dress Goods.
Opened Saturday 600 pieces Kidder clothes, beautiful styles, at 20c.
New Tan Coating and Silver Greys in Panama, Bionette and Cachemires.
New Crazy Cloths. We will sell fine Nun's Veiling at 15c.
Splendid De Albatross at 20c.
30 fine Combination Suits left marked down fifty per cent to close. HIGH'S.

What of the Real Estate Market.
Attend Sam'l W. Goode's sales, and see next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the following order: Near E. T. V. & G. R. shops, Tuesday; at corner of Walnut and Parsons streets, Wednesday; and at corner of the Boulevard and Decatur, Thursday—all in the afternoon of these days. Plans at Mr. Goode's office, Call, get one, attend the sale.

One hundred thousand dollars in dry goods, carpets and shoes marked down. Entrance side door. Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

Mr. E. T. Armstrong and R. L. Jones, of this city, drove the Arabian mare Gypsy yesterday afternoon to Marietta, Ga., and left her with the notable man, Mr. Chubb, of Marietta, who will not doubt be able to get a number of chances for the sale of Gypsy, which will positively come off at the Kimball house between 4 o'clock and 5 o'clock on Friday night, May 22. The mare will return to this city next Tuesday, and parties in want of chances had better apply soon, as there is but a few left.

Trunk Business for Sale
The best outfit for manufacturing trunks and the lease of the building for it, in the city. The best wholesale and retail store together in the city with a good stock, first class material, a good trade, and many other advantages at a great bargain.
Call and see me for particulars. Sam'l W. Goode.

Angora Lace and over-suiting in cream and colors just received at M. Rich & Bros.

You can't imagine what a stock of Fans we have until you have seen them. Our prices range from 5c to $3.50 each.

Get one of our $2.75 Lace Trimmed Satin Parasols. M.
Rich & Bros.

We have just received a beautiful line of Plain and Fancy French Satines, Organdies and Lawns. M. Rich & Bros.

While we have the very latest styles of spring and summer Dress Goods, we offer to duplicate in price and style any thing you get from New York.
M. Rich & Bros.

POISONOUS ICE CREAM.
How to Avoid Such Unfortunate Accidents.
The recent wholesale poisoning by eating ice cream will cause the people of Atlanta to make inquiry as to a safe place to buy such things during the hot summer months, and we want to give the desired information to day. We have a very competent man in control of our ice cream parlors and he is thoroughly satisfied that his experience in the business has learned him to make all kinds water ices and ice cream without the slightest fear of poisoning anybody. We guarantee that there shall be no such accident in our establishment and we will supply families with any quantity on the shortest notice. Ten cents per plate in the parlor, and delivered to any part of the city at $2.00 per gallon. Send your orders to us and feel sure that you will eat ice cream made of the finest jersey milk and not poisonous.
NUNNALLY & RAWSON,
38 Whitehall street.

HOW'S THIS?
—
ATLANTA TO AUGUSTA,
$4:50.

BY THE EAST TENNESSEE SHORT LINE.
Call at Headquarters for low
rates—East Tenn., Va. & Ga. R.
R. Ticket Office, corner Kimball
House.

The Weems Place.
On Capitol avenue, corner Clark street, will be sold at auction, Tuesday, June 2d, 3 p. m. Plans and full particulars ready at my office next Wednesday, Samuel W. Goode.

Our goods are piled up and packed in about half of our usual space, and to make room we have marked down the entire stock. Our prices will sell if you want first class goods.
Chamberlin, Johnson & Co. Entrance on Hunter street.

What.
One million pounds of Wool. J. L. Wood & Bro., General Commission Merchants, Savannah, Ga.

HIGH'S.
Big drop in prices. Do not buy old shop worn goods when you have the opportunity to save at least 25 per cent on new goods.
Our buyer made some grand hauls.
Now is the time to buy.
50 Twill Silk Parasols, 22 inches, at $1.50.

100 very fine 22 inch Parasols,
Paragon frame, best silk, at $2 each.
50 ladies' silk umbrellas at $2.50
each, worth $4.
100 satin parasols at $3 each, trimmed with 4 1-2 inch lace, and worth at least $4.50.
20 coaching parasols at $3, worth
$5.1
1 lot of Escorial trimmed para-sols at $6.50, worth $10.
We know we can save you money.
HIGH'S.

Real Estate and Atlanta Dist.
Physician than any savings bank. Now is the time to buy. Between 4 and 5 o'clock on Wednesday between W. & A. R. R. and E. T. V. & G.
R. R. tracks. Valuable, high and desirable property. There is no doubt but that a union passenger depot will be built adjoining this property, and these who will have bought at our sale will reap the quick profits. Call and get a plot and be on hand Monday, May 20th, 8 o'clock.

Go to Chamberlin, Johnson & Co's, for bargains this week. Goods must be sold to make room. Entrance on Hunter street.

Every Day During
—THE—
Beautiful Month of May

The East Tennessee short line
will sell excursion ticket from Atlanta to Savannah and return, Cumberland Island and return, Jacksonville and return, at lowest rates ever offered. Call at headquarters where cheap rates are first offered, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, corner Kimball house.

Homes on the Installation Plan.
For sale by Samuel W. Goode.

See our goods and get our prices this week. Entrance on Hunter street.
Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

BY SAMUEL W. GOODE,
4 COTTAGES AND A VACANT LOT ON PARSON AND WALNUT STREETS AND KENNEDY ALLEY,
AT AUCTION,
WEDNESDAY, MAY 20th, 4 p. m.

The cottages have 2, 3 and 4 rooms; the neighborhood excellent; the lots high, accessible by Broad and Walker streets, and the street car Stonewall streets. Titles perfect. Terms are third cash, balance six and twelve month eighth per cent interest. Plans at my office free for all.
SAMUEL W. GOODE,
No 1 Marietta, corner Peachtree street.

Our trade for the past week has been by far larger than we expected, and of course, situated as we are at present, we attribute it solely to low prices, which we guarantee.
See for yourself. Entrance on Hunter street. Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

Samuel W. Goode's real estate list contains houses to suit all applicants. You are invited to inspect it.

We are determined to close, if possible, our stock and go into our new store with new goods. Price is not considered. Entrance on Hunter street. Chamberlin, Johnson &
Co.

FORT SUMTER,
—BY THE—
East Tennessee Short Line.
Round trip rate Atlanta to Charleston, S. C., and return only $6.00, Thursday, May 21.
Trains leave 6 a. m., 5 p. m.
Call at East Tenn., Va., & Ga.
R. R. Ticket Office, corner
Kimball House.

For first-class goods, guaranteed
to be just as represented, at prices
lower than same fabrics were ever offered. Call this week. We must make room. Entrance on Hunter street. Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

BIG 44
If you want a refrigerator go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want a baby carriage go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want an ice box go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want bedroom furniture go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want carpets go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want straw matting go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want leather lounges go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want hat racks go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want leather chairs go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want lace curtains go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want sideboards go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want bookcases go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want a fine desk go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want shades, curtains or poles go to A. J. MILLER'S.
If you want furniture or carpets of any kind go to A. J. Miller and get it for less money than you ever bought at before.
Send for price list.

Peachtree Street.
HIGH'S
Ribbon Sale continued this week.
50,000 yards Remnants.
Fine Ribbons, being the entire coupons of one of the largest mills in France, will be sold at less than one-fourth value.

Another lot of those 5c. Velvet Ribbons.
Chamberlin, Johnson & Co. will offer this week bargains in every department of their enormous business.

Come out and see me sell that elegant place on Peachtree corner North avenue, Monday 4 p. m. G. W. Adair.

Catch On!
The Atlanta and New Orleans Short Line via West Point and Montgomery will sell on Monday, May 18th, at 1:20 p. m. train, only round trip tickets to New Orleans and return, at $10. Good for 10 days.

There is no competition when, for an honorable purpose, goods are offered for less than they are worth.
We will offer this week the largest stock of first-class goods that was ever marked down in the south. Our prices defy even the thought of competition, all because we have no room. Entrance on Hunter street.
Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

If You are Going to New Orleans

With the Y. M. C. A. purchase your ticket and secure your sleeping car berth via the West Point and Montgomery, and travel the best line south with a view of the beautiful gulf coast. Only $10 round trip on May 18th, 1:20 p. m. train.

See and price for yourself this week. Entrance on Hunter street.
Chamberlin, Johnson & Co., Dry Goods and Shoes.

HIGH'S.
The most wonderful bargains ever in Atlanta.
We underbuy, therefore undersell.

4,000 yards 10-4 broad sheeting at 15 cents, Monadnock's worth 23
cents.
6 cases American Satteens at 8
cents.

100 Sattcen combination suits at
$1.25 each.
1,500 pieces Glendale chambrays and gingham at 5 cents a yard.
3,000 yards white India linen at 6 1/2 cents a yard.
1 lot of very fine white Swiss embroideries at 25 cents, worth 50 to 65 cents.

1 lot summer silks at 35 cents, worth 50 cents.
8,000 yards remnants printed Marsailles at 5 cents a yard.
100 white embroidered suits at $2.50 each.
50 pieces very fine lawns at 5
cents.

1 lot all linen lawns at 10 cents, black grounds.
300 pieces new styles at 15 cents, unusually fine. HIGH'S.

Angier's Ponce de Leon Water Free at the "Pavilion" to passengers over the Gate City Street Railroad. Go to the fountain and drink freely. No tickets asked for.

Grand Opening.
New line to Charleston, S. C., by the East Tenn. short line. Round trip rates Atlanta to Charleston and return $6. Macon to Charleston and return $5, Thursday, May 21.
Trains leave 6 a. m. Call at headquarters for low rates, East Tenn.
Va. and Ga. Railroad Ticket Office.

For first-class goods, guaranteed
to be just as represented, at prices
lower than same fabrics were ever offered. Call this week. We must make room. Entrance on Hunter
street. Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

HIGH'S.
We push our business, and our business pushes us.
We will offer to-morrow special bargains at 25c pair, ladies' three thread lisle gloves with lace tops, 500 pairs Berlin gauntlets at 25c pair, worth $1 pair.
300 pairs very finest guaze silk gloves, worth fully $1.75, at 20c pair.
Misses' full regular hose, ladies' full regular hose at 40c pair.
300 pairs ladies' full regular hose, in all colors, at 25c pair.
1,500 pairs oil boiled ladies' hose in bro, navy and card, usual 40c goods, at 50c.
2 grand lots of brilliant lisses worth 75c.
1,500 gents scarfs 5c each.
2,000 gents' and ladies' guaze vests at 25c, worth 40c.

HIGH.
The Regulator of low Prices.

Odd lots and off colors in hosiery, gloves, fine wools, etc., etc., half price and less. Chamberlin, Johnson & Co. Entrance on Hunter street.

That Peachtree street place corner North avenue will be sold Monday afternoon at 4 p.
m. G. W. Adair.

HOW'S THIS?
ATLANTA TO AUGUSTA,
$4:50.

BY THE EAST TENNESSEE SHORT LINE.
Call at Headquarters for low
rates—East Tenn., Va. & Ga. R.
R. Ticket Office, corner Kimball
House.

Cheap! Very Cheap!
New Orleans and return only $10.
For tickets, sleeping car berths and general information, call on T.
M. McCandless, Passenger Agent,
No. 9 Pryor street, Kimball house.

We have no bankrupt stock to offer, but we have the largest stock of first-class goods in the south to offer for less than they are worth.
Examine and price this week. Entrance on Hunter street. Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

HIGH'S.
Second trip to New York this season. Every department replenished with new, fresh and desirable goods, bought way down under value, and will be sold cheaper than what would be competitors' cost them. Five grand bargains in Black silks at 75, 90, $1, $1.25 and $1.75, worth full 50 per cent more.
We offer at $1.25 44 inch woolen Gerster cloth black, worth $1.75.
25 pieces assorted black novelty dress goods at $1, worth $1.50.
Black silk grenadines at $1.25, worth $2.
125 pieces assorted black dress goods in medium and light weights, from 40 to 75 cts. yard. Every piece a special drive.

The largest assortment black silk warp Henriettas and drap almas for mourning. HIGH'S.

Go to Chamberlin, Johnson & Co for bargains in dry goods, carpets and shoes this week. Entrance on Hunter street.

Every Day During
—THE—
Beautiful Month of May

The East Tennessee short line will sell excursion tickets from Atlanta to Savannah and return, Cum-land Island and return, Jacksonville and return, at lowest rates ever offered. Call at headquarters where cheap rates are first offered, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, corner Kimball house.

7 room residence, 100x240 feet lot, corner Peachtree and North avenue, 4 p. m., Monday afternoon. G. W. Adair.

We have just finished laying carpets in the H. I. Kimball house.
Having carpeted every room in the building. Now we are prepared better than ever to take contracts for hotels, boardinghouses, dwellings, churches, etc., in or out of the state. Will send first-class workmen and guarantee satisfaction. Entrance on Hunter street. Cham-
berlin, Johnson & Co.

Only $10.00.
To New Orleans and return on Monday, May 18, 1885, 1:20 p. m.
Train only via West Point and Montgomery.

Bargains in Hosiery, Gloves and Underwear. Simon & Frohsin will offer this week 50 dozen Lace Mitts all shades, beautiful goods, at 20 and 25c, worth 35c and 40c. 2 dozen Lisle Thread Gloves, 6 bu-ton lengths, at 25c, regular 40c Gloves. 15 dozen job lot ladies ar-children's Lisle Gloves at 10c, worth 25c. This is a wonderful bargain 35 dozen ladies, gents and children gauze vests, a beautiful article, 10 25c, all sizes. Just opened another large lot of those celebrated 50c
Kid Gloves in all colors and sizes.
40 dozen children's full regular made all sizes and colors at 20c. We have a splendid, solid black Hose full regular, at 25c; also a large variety of ladies and gents full regular made hose at 25c. 25 dozen ladies full regular made Balbriggan Hose at 15c, worth 25c, and many other bargains at the Hosiery and Glove Emporium, 43 Whitehall street. Simon & Frohsin.

HIGH'S
We offer to-morrow—
1 lot of Chemises, with Inserting and Edging trimmed, at 35c.
1000 real French Corsets at 50c.
1200 "High's Own," warranted
200 bones with stay at $1.
Grand bargains in Gowns and Skirts.

300 new Hair-cloth Bustles at 50c.
1 lot all wool Jersey's Fan Back at $1.75, worth $3.
1 lot of Braided Jersey's at $2.
1 lot of Finest Imported Jersey's at $3.50, worth $6.

HIGH'S.
The secret of success is to succeed. We have succeeded in succeeding in building up. Now if we succeed in selling off our goods to save money them back, that will be success.
We are determined to sell if low prices will do it. Everything marked down. Entrance on Hunter street.
Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

Angier's Mineral Water, Ice cold, Free to all at the Pavillion. This is the best mineral water in this section, as shown by analysis of Prof. Land. Go out via Gate City street car, starting from Kimball house front.

M. RICH & BROS.
54 and 56 Whitehall Street, Atlanta, Georgia.

AFTER THIS WEEK.
2,000 yards Changeable Surah Silks at 75c, regular price $1.25.

A Satin Parasol, full size, with all Silk Lace, at $2.75.
You can't match them for less than $4.00.

Their 5c Fancy and Plain White Lawns are gems at that price.

$3.75 will buy a beautiful Embroidered Suit, complete, in a box, at M. Rich & Bros.

We sell a wonderfully pretty Colored Bordered Hemstitched Linen Handkerchief at 10c. M. Rich &
Bros.

Call for our New, Fancy
Linen Battiste at 20c.
These goods are cheap at 30c. M. Rich & Bros.

If you want to furnish your houses elegantly, be sure to examine our stock of Carpets, Mattings and Upholstery fabrics. Keeping the best goods, we acknowledge no superiors in our line. No shoddy or auction goods, but the newest and best grades in all classes of Carpets, Curtains, etc. Selected with great care, our English Establishment being selected especially for our trade by our resident European buyer, and at prices that (quality considered) do not admit of competition.

We offer to-morrow a special, 50 rolls Fancy China Matting at 17 1/2c. This cannot be bought in Atlanta for less than 30c. We have this lot in ten patterns, all new and pretty.

We make and put up awnings at reasonable prices. M. Rich & Bros.

SOCIETY NOTED.
PLACES AT THE SOCIAL WORLD OF ATLANTA AND GEORGIA.

The Young People Have a Day Week of 11-Balls and Reception Collected by the Atlanta-Savannah-
Savannah in Atlanta-Mr. Thomas H.
Clark's Reception-Society Events.

One of the most enjoyable entertainments of the week was that given to the college delegates of the prevention, by Mrs. H. T. Inman at her beautiful home on Peachtree street. Led by the enthusiastic secretaries of the international committee, Messrs.

